Kriyayoga Awakens the True Knowledge About All Weapons

At the Kriyayoga Camp at Mukti Marg in Kumbha Mela, Swami Shree Yogi Satyam continued to draw huge audiences with his captivating speech about how Kriyayoga awakens the True knowledge about all weapons described in the Holy Scriptures.

Swamiji described that in ancient times, the great, realized masters needed to explain to the masses the true ideas, true thoughts and true concepts behind all names and forms of creations of the Cosmos via verbal and written media. Spiritual scriptures served as the form of written media to communicate these true ideas, thoughts and concepts. In these sacred writings, the masters skillfully conveyed their knowledge of spiritual science by employing the use of various symbols and images such as the spiritual wheel (chakra), spears (bhālā), mace (gadā), bow and arrow (dhanusha and teera), and sword (talwāra). These various images were demonstrated in the hands of gods, goddesses and incarnations.

Swamiji spoke in detail about chakra during his discourse. He explained that Vishnu, Krishna and Durga, etc. hold the spiritual wheel (chakra) in their hands. Symbolically, 'hands' represent various kinds of work, activity or action and chakra represents awakened wisdom centres of the head and spine. Swamiji explained that anyone who practices Kriyayoga with deepest devotion is able to awaken all seven chakras situated in the brain and spinal cord in the form of the seven plexuses – coccygeal, sacral, lumbar, thoracic, cervical, medullary and cerebral. These people are able to perform all forms of activities guided by the principles and powers of Truth and Non-violence. When these seven chakras are fully awakened then a person has all of the power of Vishnu and is called 'Chakradhāree'. The power of Vishnu is known as the complete power of preservation of all creations of the Cosmos and is also called the power of Ahimsa (Non-violence).

He explained that in ancient times in India, all people who were experts in the field of Rājā Yoga (Kriyayoga meditation) were called 'Rājā'. Those Rājās who have full control over the seven chakras within the head and spine were referred to as 'Chakradhāree Rājā'. The great incarnations of Vishnu such Bhagavāna Rāma and Bhagavāna Krishna were known as Chakradhāree Rājā of ancient India.

During his discourse, Swamiji continued to elaborate in more depth about the true idea, concept and thought behind other weapons such as spears (bhālā), mace (gadā), bow and arrow (dhanusha and teera), and sword (talwāra). After Swami Satyamji's talk many interested members of the audience rushed to the stage to learn more about this fascinating topic from him.
